Youth Conference

Homeland is no place, it is a feeling

Youth Refugee Council and Evangelische Akademie Bad Boll invite together young people with or without refugee background to a Youth Conference in Summer 2016.

The aim of the conference is to provide the participant an opportunity to discuss the topic of Homeland and to find more about their new homeland(s) by means of creative dialog and arts.

The participants develop together a vision for self-organization of young refugees in their new homeplace(s). They share experience among each other and learn more about their own countries and cultures by means of literature, photography, theater, poetry. Last but not least the participants develop the conference into an intercultural platform for a lively discussion on the topic of a "New Homeland and youth participation".
